What's available to me?

Help protect one of your most valuable assets - the ability to earn an income. If you're temporarily disabled and can't work for a short amount of time, you can rely on short-term disability insurance to replace a portion of your weekly income.

Your primary weekly benefit is 60% of your earnings prior to your disability up to $2,500 minus other income sources. Other income sources could include but aren't limited to Social Security, other earnings, worker's compensation and state disability (if applicable), income from Paid Family and/or Medical Leave, and salary continuance.

Your benefits are determined by your base wage. This is your definition of earnings and is outlined further in the booklet you'll receive following enrollment.

Compensation for business owners covers business profits plus salaries averaged over the prior two years.

Who receives coverage?

- You'll receive coverage if you're an active, full-time employee working at least 30 hours a week. Seasonal, temporary, or contract employees aren't eligible.
 - If you're on regularly scheduled day off, holiday, vacation day, jury duty, funeral leave, or personal time off, you're still considered actively at work, as long as you're fulfilling your regular duties and were working the day immediately prior to your time off.
 - You may enroll for coverage if it's more than 31 days after becoming eligible for coverage only during the open enrollment period.

Additional eligibility requirements may apply.

When do I begin receiving disability benefits?

Your elimination period is completed and benefits begin on the 15th day for accidents and the 15th day for sickness. The elimination period is the amount of time before you start receiving benefits.

Once I start receiving benefits, how long will they continue?

Short-term disability benefits can continue up to 11 weeks.

What types of conditions may qualify as a disability?

You'll be considered disabled due to sickness or injury, or pregnancy.

During your elimination period and your benefit payment period (how long benefit is paid), one of the following must apply:

- You're unable to perform the majority of substantial duties of your own job; or
- You're unable to earn 80% of your income prior to your disability while working in a modified capacity.

Additional benefits:

Work incentive benefit	If you're working on a limited or part-time basis, you can keep your work earnings and may still receive your disability benefit. You can't receive more than 100% of your earnings prior to your disability.
Rehabilitation plan	If you're disabled, our staff may work with you, your physician and employer to create an individual rehabilitation plan to help you return to work. You may also receive this benefit if you're not disabled but have a condition that prevents you from working.
Rehabilitation incentive benefit	If you're totally disabled and satisfy the requirements of an individual rehabilitation plan, your benefit percentage may increase by 5%.
Mandatory rehabilitation	You may be paid for any expenses associated with an approved rehabilitation plan.
